COVID-19 Trends and Aviation Impact Survey

Roanoke, Texas (October 12, 2021) - JSfirm.com, the leading aviation job website, recently conducted a survey on COVID-19 Trends and Aviation Impact. 100 companies were selected from across all areas of aviation to participate this year. This survey was conducted prior to the new Department of Labor regulations regarding vaccinations.

JSfirm.com Executive Director Abbey Hutter said, "Throughout this survey process, we made sure to hand select 100 companies so we would have a good representation of the industry as a whole." She continued, "Seeing business/corporate travel resuming is exhilarating. At the same time, we can still feel the shortage of aviation professionals across all facets of the industry. JSfirm.com is continuing to extend our resources for job seekers and hiring companies to do our part to address this shortage of professionals."

COVID-19 Trends and Aviation Impact Survey Results:

- 100 companies were surveyed
- 68% of companies do not require COVID-19 testing
- 65% of companies who do require testing pay for employee testing
- 83% report they do not require vaccinations for employees
- 93% have resumed business/corporate travel
