

Heli-One Signs Framework Agreement with AAA Technology

March 8, 2023 - Heli-One, a leading provider of helicopter maintenance, repair, and overhaul (MRO) services, has signed a maintenance framework agreement with AAA Technology to further grow the business relationship between the two organizations. The contract encompasses a broad range of services and eliminates the complications of individual agreements. AAA will benefit through improved efficiencies of getting maintenance work inducted and completed by Heli-One, minimizing downtime and maximizing operational capabilities.

The framework agreement provides a contractual foundation for both AAA and Heli-One to set the business terms and conditions so that both parties can focus on more the strategic issues of planning and executing maintenance events. AAA can work with Heli-One maintenance staff directly to coordinate the induction, completion, and return of work - reducing overall project turnaround time and allowing for critical time-sensitive work to progress quickly.

“We are excited to enter this new stage of our relationship with AAA Technology. We have, over the years, developed a terrific working relationship and our teams around the world look forward to supporting them with their maintenance needs,” said Carolyn Forsyth, General Manager of Sales, Commercial & Customer Support.
