

STRAIGHT AND LEVEL

Season Two Part Two of Aviation Lifestyle TV Series, Straight and Level Presented by AeroBrigham Premieres March 15th

From U.S. Military Aviation Elite, to Aerobatic Champions, to Aviation Business Leaders, this season has it all!

For Immediate Release
March 8, 2023

Fort Worth, Texas: Straight and Level, the most watched aviation lifestyle television program of the last decade presented by AeroBrigham, is excited to announce the release of Season Two Part Two beginning March 15th on Amazon Prime Video. The crew of Straight and Level once again delivers the behind-the-scenes, hard-to-find stories that its audience of aviators and aviation enthusiasts have come to expect and enjoy.

W. Hulsey Smith, V1 Productions Executive Producer of the Straight and Level series, shares that “the focus of Straight and Level is to bring the joy and love of flying back to the forefront of conversation. Our series share the passion of individuals from our military, general aviation, and business leaders from not only their current roles but also their vision for the future of aviation. Their various perspectives are enlightening.”

March 15th kicks off Part Two of the Second Season lineup with “Lites Out”, which portrays the final days literally trailing John “Lites” Leenhouts as he concludes his tenure as CEO of the renowned SUN ‘n FUN Aerospace Expo, the world’s second largest airshow convention in the world and its parent organization, the Aerospace Center for Excellence. This episode includes Leenhouts’ reflection of the opportunities his naval aviation career afforded him on his commitment to ‘pay it forward’ for the next generation of aviators.

Available on Amazon Prime Video, subsequent episodes will be released each Wednesday over six weeks at Straight and Level. Prior episodes of Season Two as well as the complete first season are also available.
